RUSSIAN VISITOR

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL HERE ON BUSINESS WITH GOVERNMENT GUEST OF MURMANS

Mr. M. P. Kanewetz who is a government official from Russia and has been in Washington D. C. for some time on business connected with his position, was a dinner guest on Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Murman of 240 Central avenue. Mr. Kanewetz is on his way to Russia via the Hawaiian Islands and Japan and expects to spend some time in both countries. Mr. Murman met his distinguished guest in Los Angeles and took him on a motor trip during the afternoon about Los Angeles and the surrounding country. Mr. Kanewetz was extremely delighted with the beauties of Southern California, which he called a "corner of Paradise."

He reports that conditions in Russia are almost beyond description. Especially inland, he says, the deprivations and sufferings are terrible. Leather shoes are almost impossible to obtain, and in Petrograd at last reports, were priced at $50. Naturally it is necessary to use leather substitutes almost entirely and the bark of trees is called into play, the very poor being forced to tie their feet in rags, a poor protection from the strenuous climatic conditions of that country. Sugar and meat are apportioned, two and a half pounds a person each week being allowed in both cases, sugar being $3 for this amount and meat $3.50. Chocolate is $3 a pound, and tea $5 to $6. Bread is apportioned at the rate of three-fourths of a pound per week for each person. It is small wonder that Mr. Kanewetz so keenly felt the contrast between this country and our "corner of Paradise."

KERENSKY ASKS SUPPORT OF PARLIAMENT TO SUPPRESS ATTEMPTS OF MAXIMILISTS TO SEIZE POWER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—Flatly declaring that the Maximilists threaten to open the front to Germany, Premier Kerensky today asked the preliminary Russian Parliament if it would support the government in the suppression of their attempt to seize civil and military power. A definite break between the Bolsheviks and the Russian army staff came today when the military commander ordered troops at Viederhoff and Pavlovskia to disobey the orders of the war minister, who summoned the troops to Petrograd. Government authorities acted promptly, disconnecting all bridges connecting the Bolshevik quarters with the main part of the city and suppressing all reactionary and radical newspapers.

BOCHES CUT SAMMY'S THROAT

ONE OF FIRST AMERICAN SOLDIERS TO DIE IN FRANCE IS VICTIM OF TEUTON TRENCH KNIFE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Nov. 7.—One of the American soldiers killed in the recent German trench raid had his throat cut. He was overwhelmed by the Boches, backed up against the trench wall and a knife drawn across his throat. The wound was inflicted with a trench knife, a deadly tool carried for use in hand-to-hand conflict. All the wounded Sammies are now in base hospitals improving. It is probable they will return to the trenches as soon as the doctors pronounce them fit.

REACH FRANCE SAFELY

TEN GLENDAL BOYS OF ENGINEERS' CORPS WILL SOON BE AT FRONT

Mrs. H. L. Sadler of 1017 1/2 Broadway, whose son, Ed Sadler, was among the Glendale boys who left Camp Mills for France about two weeks ago, has received word through a friend in Los Angeles, Mrs. Moore of New Hampshire street, of the safe arrival of that assignment of men. Mrs. Moore received a telegram on Monday from friends in New York city who had direct word from the other side. So far as can be learned there were about ten Glendale boys on board, who will now soon be at the front in France. Six of these were given in the list of boys at whose homes service flags have been displayed in their honor, which was printed in the News on Tuesday. The entire list, so far as known is given here:

Holman Midcalf, 344 Orange street, 117th Engineers, Company D.
Stanley Gorman, 1007 West Fifth, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Frederick Burt, 1020 North Central, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Hugh Freeman, 1517 Sycamore avenue, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Ed Sadler, 1454 West Seventh street, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Douglas Balthis, 1532 West First street, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Frank Littell, 1100 Dryden street, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Jo. Barnett, 125 S. Kenwood 117th Engineers, Company D.

YOUNG PEOPLE PLAN DRIVE

The open social meeting of the Y. P. B. held on Tuesday evening at the Lutheran parsonage was well attended and the guests found the program well worth while as well as enjoying a pleasant social time. War relief work was the chief topic of Mrs. Irvine's interesting informal talk and Mrs. Doughty presented a new plan of organization for the young people in making a drive to obtain new members. The idea will involve the holding of office with promotions along military lines, a certain number of new names forming a company captained by the member presenting them, who later may be promoted to commander of a regiment, etc. The plan was enthusiastically received and will doubtless prove successful. A program was given, including vocal solos by the Misses Hazel Walters and Elizabeth Mottern, with a violin solo by Miss Faith Tarling, and readings by Miss Nellie Genevieve Rowe and Mr. Julius Eichorn of the University Y. P. B. in Los Angeles. Later all the young people sang and had a very merry time.

FAREWELLS FOR MRS. PRICE

Several of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Frank Price formerly of 466 West Ninth street, who left last Saturday, entertained informally in her honor by way of farewell during the past week. Mrs. J. P. Shropshire entertained with a little social afternoon early in the week, the ladies all bringing their hand work. She served dainty refreshments. Later Mrs. Howard Walker of 129 North Kenwood had a few guests in to a pleasant little afternoon tea, and on Thursday Mrs. E. Quinch entertained at her home, 430 West Fifth street, serving her guests with delicious hot biscuits and cake with tea. On the evening before Mrs. Price left she and Mr. Price were the guests of Miss W. E. Fink, at her home, 218 South Maryland. The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Price greatly regret the fact that they expect to make their home in the future away from Glendale.

CHILD ARTIST PLEASAS MANY

Catherine Dotson, 5 years old, and pupil of Mrs. Alma Gibbs, gave an interesting program at her home Saturday afternoon.
Her perfect technique and musical expression was quite remarkable for one of her years, having studied only two and one-half months. After the program refreshments were served and a delightful afternoon enjoyed by all present.

INTEREST GROWING

There's a growing interest in the Christian church special meetings, shown by last night's attendance. Tonight will be given over to the young people and the sermon topic will be "The Two Covenants," a chart sermon especially helpful in its teaching. The plan has been to hold these meetings but a short time. Friends should attend this week.

THE HUNS OVER LONDON

SIDELIGHTS ON HOW THE BRITISH PEOPLE VIEW THE AIR RAIDS

Miss Minnie M. Penn of Sussex, England, formerly of Glendale, who wrote us an interesting letter some weeks ago, writes again. She says: "Now during this 'harvest moon season of frightfulness' your readers may be interested in a letter written by my cousin living in London. It is so very typical of the British people's attitude regarding the air raids, which, instead of creating a panic as is aimed at by the enemy, only makes the Britisher 'mad,' and more than ever resolved to pay them back in their own coin. The Goodwin referred to in her letter is a young son now discharged, who was twice wounded and shell shocked in France.

"We, living forty miles from London, saw the star shells and lights and heard the uproar very distinctly, and after we had gone to bed heard one of the 'Goths' over us on its way home. We think it finished its own share of frightfulness about 15 or 20 miles from us, where bombs were dropped.

"We read with a certain feeling of proprietary interest of all Glendale's war work activity, and now with Old Glory added to the flags of the allies 'we will strive on to finish the work we are in, and do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace.' With greetings to all old Glendale friends.

"MINNIE M. PENN."

Miss Penn incloses the following from her cousin in London:

"I sat down to write to you last night, but the beastly Huns came over us with their bombs and our guns began to roar, and there was no more settling for anything. They were over more than an hour. We had the demons over nearly every night last week. Monday and Saturday were the worst. On Saturday shells from our guns fell thick and fast around us and were embedded in the roads and gardens. Fortunately none near us exploded or I might not be here to write about it. One went into Mrs. Duffell's front garden. She lives just opposite us, and it went a great way down. They dug about five feet and had not reached it last night.

"It is exciting, and fortunately we are not frightened. It rather upsets Goodwin to hear the swish of the shells. He has looked quite poorly for some days.

"8:45.—We have just finished dinner and the Huns are at it again. A short time ago we heard bombs as well as the guns, and they were fairly near for the moment. I wonder if we shall ever have a peaceful night free from Huns.

"Clem returned to France today. He and his young brother took Eileen and Doris to His Majesty's on Saturday. During the raid the people were asked to go into the underground passages of the theater where they sat until it ceased. Then they returned to their seats and the performance was finished. But the getting home was the thing. The stations were pitch dark and the crowds abnormal."

HIGH SCHOOL P.-T. A.

The Parent-Teacher's association of the High School held a well attended and successful meeting on Monday evening at the school cafeteria. Over 200 were present. After the short business session at which Mrs. Cora M. Nichols, the president, presided, the evening was given over to the subject of Vocational Training as presented by the members of the faculty of the mechanical arts department in the G.U.H.S. Mr. Oliver was the speaker of the evening, and gave an enlightening talk on the need for vocational training and what it is accomplishing here in our high school. Mr. Hildebrand followed with a talk explaining his subject of wood working, telling the need for his branch of education and what is being done with it in his department. Mr. Richardson spoke concerning metal working and forge, his branch of vocational training here, carrying out the idea of the meeting in both giving reasons for the need of this work and what is actually being done with it for our Glendale boys. After refreshments were served and all had enjoyed a social hour, the assembled company was conducted through the school shops by the speakers of the evening who were thus able to demonstrate much of their subjects right on the ground. All left at the end of the session feeling that much had been accomplished toward the purpose not only of bringing teacher and parent together socially but of giving the parents a clearer understanding of what is being done for their children by our school.

CHRISTMAS MAIL FOR AMERICAN FORCES ABROAD

Washington, D. C., October 3, 1917.

TO THE PUBLIC:

The time is approaching to give thought to bringing Christmas cheer to the American soldiers and sailors abroad.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby the Christmas mail to the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe is to be delivered by Christmas morning. Without the fullest cooperation on the part of the public it will be impossible to accomplish this result.

The three essential respects in which the public can aid in assuring a happy Christmas at the front are: Mail early, address intelligently, and pack securely. For this reason it is urgently requested that all persons having Christmas mail for the soldiers and sailors and the civilian units attached to the army in Europe observe closely the following directions:

1. Mails to reach the soldiers in France by Christmas morning must be posted not later than November 15.
2. Every package must bear conspicuously the words "Christmas Mail," the complete address of the person for whom it is intended, and, in the upper left-hand corner, the name and address of the sender.
3. Every parcel must be so packed and wrapped as to admit of easy inspection by the postmaster. No parcel will be dispatched to France which has not the postmaster's certificate that it contains no prohibited articles.

A. S. BURLESON,

Postmaster General.

NEWTON D. BAKER,

Secretary of War.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS,

Secretary of the Navy.

CHRISTMAS MAIL FOR AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

Office of Second Ass't P. M. Gen.

Washington, Oct. 8, 1917.

Recognizing the unusual significance of the coming Christmastide to our military, naval and civilian forces abroad, who will undoubtedly be the recipients of numerous gifts from friends and relatives at home, the Post Office Department, with the cooperation of other Governmental Departments interested in the welfare and comfort of the men on foreign soil, has made special arrangements to effect timely delivery of all "Christmas" parcels addressed to the American Expeditionary Force overseas.

In order that the department may realize its cherished purpose to place in the hands of the absent ones these tokens of friendship and esteem on Christmas morning patrons of the postal service are requested to faithfully comply with the simple postal requirements outlined hereafter. Without the hearty cooperation of mailers this extraordinary service can not be adequately performed.

Preparation of Parcels for Mailing.—Owing to the unusual distance this mail must be transported, the handling and the storage it must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all parcels be covered with wrappers of sufficient strength not only to resist pressure of other mail contained in the sacks in which it will be inclosed, but to withstand the weight of other sacks of mail, which in the long transit may be piled thereon. Furthermore, owing to the fact that the contents of each parcel must be scrutinized before leaving the United States, to obviate delay, due to censorship, the covering thereof should be so secured as to admit of ready inspection of the contents of the parcel.

Many combination packages will probably be made up, including miscellaneous toilet articles, candies, soaps, etc. The contents of such packages should be tightly bound, in order that the several articles may not be loosened in transit, damaging the parcel itself or causing damage to the covering of the parcel. Soldiers' Christmas boxes should be inclosed in substantial containers. Candies in thin pasteboard boxes should be inclosed in wood, tin, or corrugated pasteboard. Sealed packages of candy, cigars, tobacco and toilet articles in simplest mercantile form may be inclosed within parcels without affecting the parcel-post classification of such packages. Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments, such as razors, knives, etc., must have their points or edges protected so they can not cut through their coverings and damage other mail or injure postal employees. Cakes, plum puddings, and similar delicacies should be packed in substantial tin containers, or equally resistant receptacles, whether sent as separate packages or inclosed with other matter in a combination package.

How to Address Parcels.—Parcels must be fully, correctly and legibly addressed and conspicuously marked "CHRISTMAS MAIL." The addressee's company, regiment or other organization, followed by the words "American Expeditionary Forces" should appear in the address. In the upper left corner the name and address of the sender must be placed. The superscription should be written in ink. In case a tag is used, the name and address of the sender and addressee should also be written on the wrapper of the parcel for use, should the tag become detached.

Postage.—All parcels must be fully prepaid by stamps affixed, at the 8th zone rate of postage, or 12 cents for each pound or fraction. Patrons are cautioned against placing RED CROSS stamps or stickers other than postage stamps, on the address side of mail matter, as such matter is thereby rendered unavailable. In the use of Christmas stickers care should be taken not to seal the parcels therewith, as sealed parcels are unavailable at the fourth-class rate of postage, which necessitates their being returned or held for postage thus causing delay and possible disappointment. Pastors or stickers which resemble postage stamps are not permissible on the outside of any mail matter.

Permissible Additions.—In addition to the name and address of the sender, which is required, it is permissible to write or print on the covering of a parcel of fourth-class matter, or on a tag or label attached thereto, the occupation of the sender, and to indicate in a small space by means of marks, letters, numbers, names, or other brief description, the character of the parcel, but ample space must be left for the full address and for the necessary postage stamps. Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas," "Please do not open until Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and the like, may be placed on the covering of the parcel in such manner as not to interfere with the address, or on a card inclosed therewith. Books may bear simple dedicatory inscriptions not of a nature of personal correspondence.

Mailing of Books.—The rate of postage on parcels of printed books weighing 8 ounces or less is 1 cent for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof. Parcels of books weighing more than 8 ounces are subject to the parcel post rate of 12 cents per pound or fraction.

Perishable Matter.—Parcels containing perishable matter should be withheld from the mails unless it is absolutely certain that the contents will not deteriorate within six weeks from the date of mailing.

Prohibited Articles.—The principal articles classed as unmailable are intoxicants of all kinds, poisons, inflammable materials (including friction matches), or compositions which may kill or injure another, or damage the mails. As all contents of parcels will be carefully examined, mailers will refrain from inclosing in parcels any intoxicating liquors or other articles classed as unmailable.

Parcels for the Expeditionary Forces abroad may not be registered or insured.

Make Small Parcels.—Owing to the great demand on transportation space, patrons are urgently requested to make their packages as small as possible—preferably not to exceed ten pounds in weight—as smaller parcels will have to be given preference in shipment, in order to accommodate the greatest number of persons.

Additional information concerning the preparation and mailing of parcels may be obtained from local postmasters who should be consulted when patrons are in doubt.

RED CROSS FRENCH CLASS

The Monday evening French class, directed by Mrs. Nanno Woods, on behalf of Red Cross work, will finish its course of ten lessons next Monday. The ladies and gentlemen attending this class are however, so interested in their studies that they unanimously have elected to continue their French education and to take another course of lessons. Mrs. Woods is willing to give her time indefinitely in any useful way; and will therefore start another course of instruction. These lessons cost only 25 cents each. Upon entering the class the fee for the entire course is paid in advance—25 cents for 10 lessons, each amounting to $2.50 for the course.

No new pupils will be accepted for the Monday evening class, unless they are already fairly advanced in French. But a special class will be started at any time, upon request, provided there are at least six pupils. Apply to 1222 Milford street, Glendale, for any required information. Phone, Sunset Glendale 394.

Mr. J. E. Vandiver has returned to his home 1224 West Ninth street, after three weeks spent in a hospital in Los Angeles. His condition is not greatly improved.

Miss Phoebe Everitt of Pasadena was the week-end guest of her friend Miss Irene Jones, 1543 West Seventh street. Miss Everitt formerly resided in this city.

Mrs. W. C. Wickersham of Alhambra, spent the day on Tuesday visiting Glendale friends. She was the guest of Mrs. Cora M. Nichols at her home, 223 South Adams street, for lunch.

The Glen Eyrie Chapter holds its regular meeting on Thursday, Nov. 8th at eight o'clock at the Masonic Temple. Six candidates will be initiated and there will also be an election of officers. A good attendance is expected.

Miss Hazel Brundage was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stofft, 1557 Stocker street, and was joined on Sunday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Brundage and son, Arthur, who motored out for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Turck of 521 North Glendale avenue, Tropic, entertained guests from Denver, Colorado, on Friday, spending the day at San Pedro and motoring out to their home for dinner in the evening. The guests were, Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hayden.

The friends of Mrs. Salo Desky, formerly of Glendale, who has been so ill for the past few weeks at the Sisters' hospital in Los Angeles, will be glad to learn that she left Monday for her new residence, 2653 Kenwood avenue, Los Angeles. She is reported as somewhat improved, though she will probably not regain her normal health for some time.

Mrs. Archie Parker of 311 South Louise street, entertained the ladies of the Third street Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon. A pleasant afternoon was spent socially and plans were made to send the usual Thanksgiving contribution to the church home for children in Los Angeles, conducted by Deaconess Wile. Mrs. Parker served delicious refreshments. There was a good attendance and all enjoyed the afternoon immensely.

Mr. Charles E. Reed of 139 South Brand Boulevard is away on a visit in Aberdeen, South Dakota, where he will attend the wedding of Mrs. Reed's niece, Miss Edith Alley, a former Glendale girl who graduated with the class of 1914 from the Glendale Union High School. Miss Alley will be married on November 11th to Mr. Arthur Sequin at the home of her sister, Mrs. Rufus Young in Westport South Dakota. Mr. Reed expects to return home immediately after the wedding.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. John Robert White held open house for the members of the Columbus avenue Parent-Teachers' association. The time was spent very enjoyably socially and with the ever present knitting. A delightful informal program was given, including a paper on Russian music by Mrs. Eugene Murman who also played several selections from Russian composers, folk songs and dances. Tea was served, Mrs. Robert Lee McCourt and Mrs. Kelly of Casa Verdugo pouring. The tables were lovely with yellow chrysanthemums above the snowy linen and shining cut glass.

On Sunday afternoon Miss Viola Sayre entertained with an informal tea at her home, 608 North Central avenue, Tropic. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Turck, and Mr. and Mrs. Zel Talbert and Mrs. Cash, of Los Angeles, in addition to the whole Sayre family consisting of five young people and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Sayre. A very delightful afternoon was spent, the guests gathering about the great open fire place as the shadows fell with marshmallows to toast and stories to tell. Both Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Turck are exceptionally interesting story tellers and have traveled extensively, so that spontaneous travel tales furnished pleasant entertainment, interspersed with Mrs. Turck's very clever Irish dialect stories. Mr. Talbert is a talented miniature painter and several other gifted persons were in the gathering, and all enjoyed an unusually happy time.

The telephone number of the headquarters of the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross is Glendale 1147.

Mr. John M. Wood of 740 Verdugo Road with his daughter-in-law Mrs. Chas. Wood and Master Mark Wood motored to San Diego last week where they visited old friends, also the camps in Balboa Park. They were accompanied by Miss Katherine McDonough of Ocean Park, a cousin of Mrs. Wood.

MRS. PARSONAGE RETURNS

Mrs. Walter Parsonage of 829 Cameron Place returned on Friday after an extensive trip on which she was absent from Glendale about seven weeks. Mrs. Parsonage visited Mr. and Mrs. Prickett, old friends from England, at their home at Fort Moody, British Columbia for some time, later going on to New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, where she visited relatives. She also stopped for quite a visit at Spencer, N. Y. She reports Canada and the east exceedingly busy with war relief work and philosophically cheerful over the war conditions which are being felt so much more sharply there than here. She says that while in Brooklyn her family was unable to buy sugar in the stores, and that when she received a letter from them some little time after having left there they reported still being unable to purchase it. The shops claimed that New York firms would not give up what sugar they had been able to secure and said there would be little change in the situation until the new crop came in. While prices are uniformly high; the east seems resigned to conditions and is absorbed in a united effort to bear what must be, and work for the country's one big cause.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

On Friday evening, November 2d, a unique surprise birthday celebration was held at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, 805 South Central avenue, for the joint birthdays of Miss Eulalie and Mr. Will Richardson. Thirty guests were present, all relatives with the exception of Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and Mr. Charles O. Paradis, who is a house guest at the Richardson home. The evening was spent informally and letters from Bert Richardson who is now in France were read while all gathered about the big open fire in the fire place. Mr. Paradis, who has travelled widely, and is thoroughly familiar with the spots from where Mr. Richardson's letters have been written, added greatly to the pleasure of these readings by his entertaining descriptions. The latest letter especially, written while Mr. Richardson was enjoying a vacation at a famous French coast resort where many noted people are accustomed to gather and where the late Queen Victoria had a summer home, furnished material for much interesting description. Mr. Richardson expects soon to join the American army as he will be released from his enlistment in the French forces on Nov. 26. The evening was further enlivened by music, Mrs. Mitchell playing several selections, and delicious refreshments were served. Wonderfully beautiful decorations were brought by one of the guests, Mrs. W. C. Richardson who presented each of the honored guests and Mrs. Richardson with immense bouquets of remarkable chrysanthemums of her own raising.

NEED UNITED CITIZENSHIP

Just as you would expect, William Drysdale, formerly of Peoria, Ill., and for thirty years a business partner of Ezra F. Parker in that city, now residing in Chicago, but a frequent visitor to the coast and pretty well acquainted in Glendale, says in a private letter to the writer of this—a greeting to friends here: "What we need now is a united citizenship, so that everything we do to counteract a designing and blood-thirsty foe may contribute to the well-being and happiness of all the nations of the earth ultimately. When all the people shall have an equal chance to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' 'Peace on earth and good will to men' was the song of the angels 2000 years ago, and may it ever continue to be, that we may give glory to God in the highest."

RED CROSS NEEDS AN EXPRESS WAGON

The Red Cross is greatly in need of donations of small express wagons or push carts in which the children who are aiding in the cause of collecting donations of junk, large cardboard cartons, boxes, bottles, etc., may be enabled better to carry these bulky articles. The merchants and householders have been very generous in giving these very useful things and there is no conservation more truly deserving of the name than that which makes use of what would otherwise have been wasted, but a small child staggering under a very large paper carton, for instance is quite an impractical means of transportation, no matter how eager the spirit of willingness. Therefore, Miss Douglas will be glad to receive news at the Red Cross headquarters during the day of help in this difficulty, or in the evening phone Glendale 588J. Red Cross phones are Glendale 1147 or Home phone Black 253.

PARKERETTES

(Written to Be Read)

Community singing, did you say? Old ballads and songs, did I hear? Who will dare to sing at any of the meetings, even one stanza, of "Rosalie, Prairie Flower," "Gentle Annie," "Do They Miss Me at Home?" "Be Kind to the Loved Ones at Home," "Low Backed Car," "Lone Rock by the Sea," "Rock of Liberty," "Beautiful Hills," "The Night Was Dark," "O the Lone Starry Hours," "Faintly as Tolls the Waning Chime," "Lorena"?

Having, as before stated, spent the last sixty years pulling Germany on top of us, all along the line of anything distinctively American, we wake up to find how heavy we are weighted down. It pleases us immensely to witness some sane efforts to lighten the road here and there. The latest in Indianapolis, where sane school officials have awakened to the fact that the teaching of the expensive German language (or any other foreign language) is no part of a common school education, to be paid for from the common school fund.

It was my good fortune to have the acquaintance of a distinguished attorney in the early fifties who had made the study of mobs a specialty. In fact, he published a volume, "Mobocracy in the United States." This work may possibly be found today—in old law libraries. It should be, and republished. Paradoxical as it may seem, the very liberties of which we boast seem to be active soil for the majesty of the law, without speedy production of that disregard which it is possible for any low brow to start a mob, the wisest and best may not be able to control.

To annihilate a musical instrumentalist or vocalist for not operating on a national anthem is manifestly wrong until it be first settled that we have one. At present, while two or three compositions are willing to stand for the honor, no one has been elected to the place. Just now there is a sort of ritualistic fever for ordering "The Star Spangled Banner" to be sung as a national anthem. But there is no law for it, nor should there be, as it can not be made to fit in our enlarged use for a song.

It might be well, here and now, to mildly intimate that both the states of Ohio and Kentucky are in the United States; that the functions of the civil law have not been thrown down or suspended, nor likely to be. Any violation of the law, civil or military, can be easily reached by the active machinery in use today. And hence there is no occasion for Ku Klux methods to assume the office of judge and jury. Memory of Ku Klux operations in the sixties is not of a character to create affection for them as useful members of society.

One scarcely knows which class to call the "lightweight" winner of the "folly" prize banner up to date—the 7x9 members of Congress who think they are wise in using dilatory and annoying tactics in keeping the suffragists out, or the ill advised minority of suffragists who seek to get in by the disgraceful method of rowdy and rollicking mobocratic bombardings of the White House.

The sisterhood of the W. C. T. U. for over fifty years have been fighting with a never-let-up energy against the use of tobacco and its awful effects, nicotine, cigarettes, on the young. They fought and gained a magnificent victory, as not a doctor with a reputation covering a block but will declare against the "weed" in any form of speech she wants, while all the school boards, everywhere, publish her facts as text books, and judges of all juvenile courts give her armloads of certificates certifying to the demoralizing effects of nicotine on the young—"sodden, lifeless degenerates," "threatening the race," "worse than the Aztecs." Awful because true.

The sisterhood of the Red Cross, who now claim great frontage in "running things," must not let their angry passions rise against the other sisterhood—if they object a bit to the wholesale manner in which they seek to upset the preaching of fifty years, and refuse to rush wholesale into the movement to set the soldiers and sailors up in the cigar and tobacco business. This is "rubbing it in" with a vengeance. "It can't be done."

It is not promotive of a healthy moral atmosphere when Deacon Brown next morning finds his buggy astride the corner of his barn roof, nor does it put him in frame of mind for the prayer meeting to be told by Elder Black, "Oh, that was merely boyish pranks, and it was done by boys of our own Sunday school. Last night was Halloween, you know, and boys must have fun." But Elder Black lost his argument for fun in the presence of Sister Jones, whose bright little girl went into life eclipse from fright as the fun hunters came marching into the front yard.

HALLOWE'EN OBSERVANCE

On Friday evening of last week, Miss Irene Jones entertained quite charmingly in her home, 1543 West Seventh street, a group of her young friends at a Halloween party. The rooms were attractively and appropriately decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, sunflowers, corn stalks and pumpkins, the electric lights being toned down with lamp shades of yellow and black crepe paper. The usual Halloween games were enjoyed throughout the evening. Miss Marjorie Singleton winning the prize in a clever nut contest. The refreshments of apples, doughnuts, fruitcake, chocolate, nuts and Halloween candies, were all that could be desired, and were served from the prettily decorated table in the dining room. The guests departed at a late hour after having spent a delightful evening. The young hostess was ably assisted by her mother, Mrs. S. B. Jones, and her aunt, Mrs. Walter Jones, in entertaining the following young people: Misses Marian Crandall, Marjorie Singleton, Alda Gervais, Mildred Singleton, Ruth Spafford, Tessa Bott, Helen Gould, Irene Gervais, Eva Gould, Messrs. Dean Sharman, Raymond Cleland, Ira Cleland, William Jones, Mrs. Emma Batz, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones and little daughter, all of Glendale; Miss Phoebe Everitt of Pasadena; Miss Margaret Carroll, Miss Anthony, Mr. Carroll and Mr. Lhemke of Los Angeles.

The way prices are going up makes one wish that when Sir Isaac Newton invented gravitation he had made it a little stronger.

"In these strenuous days, that test to the utmost the real qualities of business houses and the men responsible for them, the appeal to grow, to gain a broader viewpoint and fix a higher goal becomes more insistent. Greater, too, are the sympathy and help that the courageous find, if they will realize the real sources of success and follow where the streams from them lead."

DO YOUR BIT BY SAVING A BIT

A campaign will be launched shortly to make the most extravagant people in the world the most thrifty.

The stern necessities of war will ferret out from American life its one besetting sin—excessive spending. This, at least, will be the aim of the war saving campaign to raise more funds for the national war chest. A $2,000,000,000 issue of war savings certificates, in denominations as low as $5 and running for five years, will be offered some time this month by the Treasury Department. It will mark an innovation in government financing. The certificates, which will be on sale at postoffices and all other government agencies throughout the country, are designed to appeal to the man and the woman of limited means. The general interest rate for the entire issue will be 4 per cent. It is planned to sell the certificates by way of stamps and postoffice books. Thus the children's dime bank can be effectively mobilized for the government. Certificates will be redeemable any time before maturity at the request of the holder, allowing interest at a rate slightly less than 4 per cent.

"It is vitally necessary that the American people should practice savings on a large scale during the progress of the war," said Secretary McAdoo today. "This new plan will give every man, woman and child in America, no matter how small his means, the opportunity to do something to help the government."

Economists, who have long upbraided Americans for their care-free spending, see benefits of far-reaching importance in the new war-saving campaign. The crusade will be one of education. Just as important as the actual raising of two billion dollars, officials declare, is the inculcation of thrift habits throughout the country.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank, now a dollar-a-day employe of the government, has perfected plans for the gigantic campaign. He is assisted by Henry Ford, Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, Frederic A. Delane, member of the Federal Reserve Board; Eugene Meyer, Jr., and Charles A. Paine of Boston.

WAR REVERSES TO COME

One of the fortunes of war is its misfortunes, which, in some measure, fall to every belligerent nation. The United States, having been forced to take up the sword against a powerful and desperate enemy, will have its reverses, without doubt. It would be a fatuous faith that would believe that this country miraculously is to be spared all the misfortunes usually appertaining to a great war. Americans should steel themselves, in mind and heart, for the adverse news that may come, as the war proceeds. Two American transports have been attacked by the enemy, with loss of life. Fortunately, they were coming home and were not loaded with soldiers. But it would be phenomenal indeed if hundreds of thousands of troops should be transported over seas infested with hostile submarines on the lookout for them, without a single disaster. Pray God to spare the nation the loss of any transports. But should one go down, be prepared to accept it as one of the misfortunes of war.

American troops in the field may meet with temporary reverses. British, French, Italian and Russian troops have. But Britain and France, in particular, have been nerved to greater achievements by their temporary failures on the war front.

This is war—white hot warfare with a desperate enemy whose power is not broken. It would be folly for Americans to delude themselves with the fond hope and the soft eiderdown notion that American forces will go marching unobstructed to the banks of the Rhine or into Berlin. The United States is going to win this war. But it will win it sooner if Americans, from the start, recognize the prodigiousness of the task and prepare accordingly, with the expectation that they must suffer some reverses.—Long Beach Press.

"DOLLAR-A-YEAR" MEN

Since the entrance of the United States into the war there has grown up a large body of men in the government service who are becoming known as the "Dollar-a-Year Men." These are men with special qualifications who donate their services to the government, but who, in order to place themselves legally and technically in the government service, must be regularly employed at a stipulated salary, and the compensation is placed at one dollar a year.

Many of these men are of national and world-wide reputation for business ability. They have been accustomed for many years to the handling of large business transactions and the supervision of the work of large numbers of men. They are not merely captains of industry—they are colonels and major generals in the leadership of the great army of American industry. They have been trained in the efficient school of experience.

It is much to the credit of these men that they have volunteered their services in the time of their country's need—especially since their private affairs demand their attention more urgently now than ever before. Partial abandonment of private business will mean financial loss in no small degree. They are laboring with no expectation of pecuniary profit, and little, if any, hope of such reward as fame can afford. Their names will be overlooked while credit is being accorded to other men of far less ability who were chosen for political reasons to fill cabinet positions and to draw the salaries and share the honors.—Berkeley Gazette.

ARMORED AUTOMOBILE

The sterner side of modern warfare was brought more closely to home in Los Angeles this week when an armored automobile was unloaded after having been shipped by express from Washington, D. C., where it had been used as an aid in the recruiting of men for marine and land forces. The car, mounted on a King 8 light chassis will be one of the chief exhibits at the annual automobile and truck show which will open there in the Billy Sunday tabernacle next Monday afternoon and continuing throughout the week. The giant "tank" car, another feature of "the world on wheels" has already been installed in the south tent, the main entrance to the show.

J. S. Conwell, president of the Los Angeles City Council and director general of the show has notified accessory exhibitors who have been assigned space in the main building that all is in readiness for the installing of fixtures and the placing of their exhibits will be followed by the arranging of the automobile and truck exhibits.

KANSAS JACK-RABBIT NOW WAR DELICACY

OAKLEY, Kansas, November 7.—The despised Kansas jack rabbit is coming into his own. For years the long eared speedster of the plains has been considered a pest almost equal to the coyote, to be killed and let lie. A Kansan would never think of eating a jack rabbit.

But last winter food profiteers from the cities began casting for new fields and hit upon the jack rabbit. They shipped out frozen rabbits by the trainload and marketed them in New York at a good price.

In western Kansas the jack rabbit is a pest. He ruins young orchards, eats alfalfa and generally overruns the country. To combat the plague nearly every county holds "round-ups." On an appointed day hunters form in a huge hollow square and slowly converge driving the rabbits before them. When the "jacks" begin to try breaking through the lines they are clubbed to death. It is not uncommon for thousands of rabbits to be killed in a single round-up.

Until last winter the carcasses had always been left where the rabbits were killed. Last season, however, the profiteers began buying rabbits and shipping them to eastern markets in refrigerator cars. Kansans who visited New York cafes were surprised to see the same old jack rabbits they had turned up their noses at all their lives served as "hares" and bringing an astounding price.

This winter the shipping of rabbits will be more extensive than ever. Already buyers are arranging big hunts and preparing to start shipping.

MAXWELL SETS NEW RECORD

W. J. LaCasse, Pacific Coast supervisor for the Maxwell Motor company, just completed a record breaking trip from Oakland, to Yosemite Valley with a new 1918 Maxwell touring car carrying four passengers in the fast time of 5 hours and 15 minutes, or an average of 36 miles per hour for the entire distance of 189 miles.

This run was checked by Western Union Naval Observatory time and is considered remarkable by those who have made the trip and know how difficult it is to maintain this speed over this route.

Mr. LaCasse also holds the record for the fastest time between Portland, Oregon and Mount Hood, as well as the record between Portland and Seaside, Oregon, both of which were made in a Maxwell touring car. Bill LaCasse has also won fame by his performance in the Desert Classic between Los Angeles and Phoenix in former years.

"The Maxwell is the only car I would put my money on in a hard grueling run of this nature," said Bill, after completing the drive to Yosemite. "This run was made merely to test out the endurance and quality of our new 1918 model and the results are more than satisfactory." Bill claims the new car is a marvel of speed and endurance and is willing to back it against all comers.

WHAT IS A SUR-TAX?

Many interested in the liberty loan and the war tax bill recently enacted into law have but a hazy notion of the meaning of "sur-tax."

Here it is: A sur-tax affects those having big incomes. When the interest derived by an individual or corporation from investments exceeds $5000 per year then that income is subject to a sur-tax.

Thus, a sur-tax will affect incomes derived from liberty bonds only when the interest on those bonds exceeds the $5000 minimum. The interest on $125,000 in 4 per cent liberty bonds is $5000, and therefore not subject to sur-tax.

In this way the government hopes to have the wage earner invest in the war loan, since his investment would be small. Failure to sur-tax liberty bonds, on the other hand, would encourage millionaires and corporations to take up huge investments.—Exchange.

SHORT WAY TO PEACE

What General Maurice, director of military operations at the British war office, says about the importance of getting American troops to the front in the shortest time and in the greatest numbers will be appreciated by everybody who understands that slow and feeble warfare is always the costliest war. Speed and hard blows are what will bring peace quickest.

The British are now striking rapidly. Where formerly weeks and even months intervened between attacks, a few days now suffice for new advances. The present forward movement east of Ypres is the third within ten days. These successive offensive indicate a high state of organization in the British armies. They show that the reserves of men are unfailing and that conditions in the supply and transport service must be almost perfect.

But they show another thing, and that is that the British high command realizes that to gain and maintain supremacy a continued offensive is necessary, and that even in a cost in casualties that is averaging above twelve thousand a week it is the cheapest and most effective military policy because it means the quickest end to the war. In the light of all that has gone before, of British unpreparedness at the beginning, of insufficient forces wiped out or forced to retreat before superior numbers, of artillery outgunned and air craft outwinked, in the light of all these lessons the United States can not, without folly, enter the field except to take the offensive at the same high plane the British are holding it and demonstrate superiority from the start. That is the way the war will be won, and the quicker we can show that superiority the quicker it will be won.

Hard blows mean a short war and feeble blows a long one.—Kansas City Star.
